The 1985 AMERICAN JEWISH YEAR BOOK, the eighty-fifth in the series, continues to offer a unique chronicle of developments in areas of concern to Jews around the world.

Articles focusing on Jewish life in the United States include Murray Friedman’s “Intergroup Relations”; George Gruen’s “The United States, Israel, and the Middle East”; Barry Chiswick’s “The Labor Market Status of American Jews: Patterns and Determinants”; and Gary Tobin and Alvin Chenkin’s “Recent Jewish Community Population Studies: A Roundup.” Alvin Chenkin provides revised U.S. Jewish population estimates.

Jewish life around the world is reported on in a series of articles examining Israel, Canada, Great Britain, France, West Germany, East Germany, the Soviet Union, Poland, Rumania, Hungary, Yugoslavia, and the Middle East. Estimates for the world Jewish population are given.

Jewish life around the world is reported on in a series of articles examining Israel, Canada, Great Britain, France, Federal Republic of Germany, German Democratic Republic, Soviet Union, Poland, Rumania, Hungary, Yugoslavia, and the Middle East. Estimates for the world Jewish population are given.

Carefully compiled directories of national Jewish organizations, periodicals, and federations and welfare funds, as well as religious calendars and obituary articles and notices, round out the 1985 AMERICAN JEWISH YEAR BOOK.

We are very grateful to our colleague N. Dina Nerenberg for technical and editorial assistance. Thanks are also due to Joan Margules for her proofreading efforts and to Diane Hodges for compiling the index. Finally, we acknowledge the aid of Cyma M. Horowitz, director of the Blaustein Library, Lotte Zajac, and all our other co-workers in Information and Research Services.
