the YEAR BOOK is essentially a compendium of the latest data on Jewish life throughout the world. It answers the basic questions about Jewish population, geographic distribution, economic pursuits, religious life, social service, fund raising and other communal interests, and relations with other groups — all presented against the background of world events. Thus, the mutilation and burning to death of six Jews in the Moroccan village of Petit Jean in August 1954 is viewed within the framework of the current unrest in North Africa. The YEAR BOOK's authoritative chronicle of the Austrian Government's attempts to avoid its obligations to the Austrian victims of Nazism and their surviving heirs is required reading for all those who would comprehend post-war political developments in Central Europe.

Focussing though it does on communal affairs, the YEAR BOOK nevertheless does not neglect personalities who have contributed importantly to Jewish life. Volume 56 contains appreciations of three such figures: the noted Talmudic scholar, Louis Ginzberg, the profound Zionist theoretician and philosopher, Hayim Greenberg, and Alexander Marx, the distinguished bibliographer.

An exhaustive index makes the large body of information in the YEAR BOOK readily accessible to the reader.
